Outline the Public consultation process

- The documents planned for publication by PCIM&H are initially drafted in consultation with concerned expert committees and are displayed on the website for inviting comments/inputs/suggestions from the stakeholders as well as general public.
- The comments/inputs/suggestions received within stipulated time are scrutinized so as to incorporate necessary corrections in the Draft.
- In later course, such documents after finalization through due procedure are published and made enforceable from the effective date.